Nota formattata di	The present work collects all of the historical-biographical prose of the important twelfth century poet and polygraph Theodore Prodromus, active as a teacher and a lettré during the reign of the Comnene emperors John II and Manuel I. This critical edition of the collected letters, the first of its kind, appears together with ten elaborate speeches (four of these are monodies or funerary speeches), originating in the same learned milieu and stylistically close to the letters. Both sections of this volume display the refinements of twelfth century Byzantine literary art and rhetoric
